

A person is silhouetted against a bright, glowing opening in a dark, rocky cave. The cave walls are covered in intricate, light-colored mineral deposits or stalactites. The overall scene is dramatically lit, with the bright light from the opening creating a strong contrast with the dark interior of the cave.

Please specify who owns the copyright for this article

The answer to this question will tell our system whether you are authorized to sign this form yourself, or if you will be required to obtain another signature in order to legally transfer or retain copyright.

☒ Contributor-owned work

This is the correct selection for most authors. It is customary in most academic and healthcare institutions for faculty to retain copyright for articles that they have authored. Please check whether different policies apply in your institution.

☐ U.S. Government work

Applies only if your work was authored as part of your official duties as a United States federal government employee; such works are in the public domain in the US.

☐ U.K. Government work

Applies only to employees of the U.K. Government.

☐ Non-Governmental Organization work

Applies only if the work was carried out during the course of employment by a Non-Governmental Organization.

☐ Other Government work

Applies only to government employees outside of the U.S. and U.K.

☐ Company/institution-owned work

This does not typically apply to most universities and academic institutions. Applies when an organization, often a commercial corporation, owns the copyright of a work either because there is a specific clause in the author's contract of employment that states the company/institution's ownership of its employees' intellectual property, or it has been contracted ('made for hire').

A person is standing in a dark cave, looking out through a bright, glowing opening. The cave walls are covered in intricate, glowing patterns that resemble roots or veins. The scene is dramatically lit, with the bright light from the opening illuminating the person and the surrounding cave walls.
